

GASVERKETS BIPRODUKTER

A tiered display of various gas by-products. The display consists of a white base with four levels of glass trays. The top level holds a large, dark, irregularly shaped sample. The second level holds several smaller, dark, rectangular samples. The third level holds several glass jars containing dark, granular material. The fourth level holds several glass jars containing dark, granular material. The display is arranged on a white base.

